Upcoming Sunday Services

March 4: March Forth for International Women’s Day
Rev. Elena Rose Vera, Worship Leader

As we move into a special week that begins with International Women’s Day and ends with Harriet Tubman Day, join Rev. Elena Vera in remembering some of the many heroes who have helped their communities run toward freedom. Inspired by the hardworking leaders who helped liberate many of our own ancestors, we too can be builders and beacons for those around us—and for our descendants yet to come. What can we learn from their achievements? What can we achieve together today?

March 11: The Power of Presence
John Hankey, Guest Worship Leader

There is a way to activate mindful, present moment awareness.
It’s simple and profound. Once you truly understand how to “be present,” your life will never be the same.

March 18: Faith for UUs
Rev. Marsh Agobert, Worship Leader

Some of us speak of ourselves as being ‘of the Unitarian or Universalist (btw - do you know the difference?) faith.’ Though, since we are a non-credal religion, what can this possibly mean? For that matter, what does “Faith” ever really mean or have to do with us?
We can talk about this... and not just talk about it but find a clear and personal path to access faith... even for the atheist.

March 25: Another Train
Amanda Weatherspoon, MDiv, Worship Leader

The impulse to control life’s circumstances is possibly one of humanity’s greatest growing edges. However, there is an overwhelming reality to consider in regards to livelihood, relationships, basic needs, and the like. How do we persevere in the face of great uncertainty – in our day-to-day lives, and in the big picture? How can we “Let Go and Let God” in the face of disappointment and uncertainty?

ARTIST RECEPTION: Cosmic Escapes
Acrylic paintings by Elayne Ryder Sunday, March 25th 12-1!
The intention of my artwork is to awaken in myself and in others, the wonder, awesomeness and depth of nature in all its beauty and mystery.
I see trees, clouds, birds, insects, mountains, planets and all of nature, as energy that speak to us through colors, textures, patterns, and circles.
I seek to combine macro cosmos with micro earth and nature.
*If you are interested in showing your art, please email aesthetics@bfuu.org

Social Justice Action Ministry

INVITATION TO ALL TO DECIDE THE PATH OF THE NEW SOCIAL JUSTICE ACTION MINISTRY (SJAM)
On SUN 3/4/18, we invite all interested in JUSTICE to stay after service together to brainstorm more actions in the three categories which we discerned were priority areas of justice action: economic, racial and environmental justice.
Then the new SJAM group will discern from past and present brainstorming lists and by researching possibilities, the popular and possible actions we will then bring back to the congregation to vote on and join SJAM in organizing an action for this spring.
PLEASE plan to stay with us at the first meeting after service on the 4th March, to see and influence what SJAM is all about. We need your ideas, priorities, and energy again, so are inviting all to think about them and please come!!
See you there, thanks, SJAM: Social Justice Action Ministry (Which should include YOU!!)
The Social Justice Committee has posted a new video on YouTube: Crisis At KPFA & Pacifica Network, Democracy & A National Alternative Multi-Media Network (1:55:37) Published on Feb 19, 2018 at Labor Video YouTube Channel https://youtu.be/3q-mo8-lp8k

The crisis at KPFA and Pacific, including the possibility of bankruptcy was the focus of a forum on 2/18/18 in Berkeley. The forum also looked at the history of efforts to make Pacifica and the stations into an NPR type operation. Also, presentations looked at the development of a multi-media platform using streaming video and the digitalization of the analogue channels at KPFA that could bring 2 additional stations for the use of KPFA and possible lease as a way of raising funding. Finally, the program reported on the effort at KPFA to manipulate an election to prevent any representation from the station on the PNB of representatives who would be opposed to the bankruptcy proposal being pushed by the CFO, Save KPFA and United For Community Radio UCR factions.

Speakers:
Maria Gilardin, TUC Radio
Frank Sterling, KPFA Apprentice Program & Full Circle
Jeff Blankfort, Founder of “Save KPFA” & Host KZYX&Z Takes on The World 90.7, 91.5
Janet Kobren, KPFA LSB and former Pacific National Board Member Steve Zeltzer, KPFA WorkWeek Radio and KPFA LSB Staff Representative
Pedro Reyes, KPFA Host of Settin The Standard and Late Night Hype

Grapes of Wrath revisited

It’s still the same, Tom Joad, “everybody might be just one big soul”
and people need food for their bellies and clothes on their backs and a safe place to sleep and this morning I wondered just how far we’ve come since the 1930s when the dust storms and the banks drove people off the land and the Okies and the Arkies were the immigrants lured by handbills that promised work for good wages picking peaches and harvesting grapes families of three generations a fourth on the way lived and died and gave birth in jalopies and jungle camps along Route 66 chased by vigilantes with clubs “keep moving, you can’t stop here…”
crossed the dry desert made it to the California line turned back by border guards outlaws in their own land desperate, hungry willing to take any kind of work pitted against each other by unscrupulous contractors hired by the big landowners to keep wages down keep people from organizing to fight for their rights feed their families hold onto their pride and self-respect...

These days, Tom Joad, it ain’t much different.
In Eureka California county officials evict homeless families and demolish their encampment inventing a health crisis to win public sentiment (in the 30s vigilantes burned down roadside camps)
In Palo Alto “creek dwellers” are roused by the police from under a bridge their sleeping bags and few belongings thrown into dumpsters as so much trash (deputy sheriffs clubbed Preacher Casey under a bridge)
In Santa Cruz sleeping under a blanket is a crime (like they told the Joads, “don’t let us catch you here after sundown”)
In San Francisco homeless veterans fight for housing in The Presidio, former home of the military and elder tenants are evicted as building owners use any means necessary to increase profits and people who’ve paid many thousands of hard-earned dollars in rent have nowhere to go...

...and this morning in Berkeley California on the main street in rush hour while well-dressed people on their way to jobs hurried into the coffee shop and back to their cars an old white man in tattered pants ragged shirt and mud-caked shoes shuffled in for his cup of coffee and shuffled off silently bearing his bundle of earthly goods (people reading their morning paper turned their eyes away) and a homeless black woman took up her corner position as rain clouds threatened and a rainbow filled the sky with no pot of gold at the other end I lent her my umbrella and drove my old Chevy back to my apartment to look for work...
...and I don’t have a farm to lose or even a house I’m one step over the line from being out on the street afraid to let my daughter know my friends know how close to the edge I live how much I feel in common with Tom Joad and his Ma and little Muley and Preacher Casey and how good that WPA camp looks and what a struggle it is to pay the bills and take care of my health needs and how scary it is to get old where there’s no place to fall and all those years I worked to support myself and my daughter and marched and sang out for human rights and liberty and justice and like Karl Marx said all I have is my labor power in this land of the brave where freedom does not include the right to a roof over your head or health care for all who need it or dignity and security in your old age.

Woody Guthrie, it’s like you wrote after Steinbeck’s big American saga when Tom Joad says goodbye to Ma:

“Everybody might be just one big soul
Well it looks that way to me
Everywhere that you look in the day or night
That’s where I’m a-gonna be, Ma,
That’s where I’m a-gonna be.
Wherever little children are hungry and cry Wherever people ain’t free Wherever folks are fighting for their life
That’s where I’m a-gonna be, Ma,

BFUU Chalice Lighters!

Chalice Lighters is a UUA program which encourages individual members to extend the impact of our faith by making a donation of $20 or more three times a year. The current call extends through March 26. Several members of BFUU are already Chalice Lighters and more are encouraged to join. When 30% of any congregation sign up to become Chalice Lighters, that congregation becomes eligible to receive Chalice Lighter grants. These grants are to be used for transformational goals. We hope to transform Fellowship Hall foyer! The Aesthetics Subcommittee of Buildings and Grounds plans to apply for a Chalice Lighter grant for its planned Memory Center in the foyer. This would memorialize beloved figures who have played a role in our congregation. To remember our legacy is to gain inspiration for our work in the present and the future.

UU Women's Retreat

The annual Women and Religion PCD Women's Retreat is coming up on March 8-11, 2018. All self-identified women are welcome to join us for a calming respite from our busy lives. Usually held at a retreat center near Napa that was severely damaged in October by the wildfires, this year we will be meeting at the Anubhuti Center in Novato. Anubhuti is a contemplative retreat center run by Brahma Kumaris, the largest spiritual organization in the world led by women. It is housed in a group of historic buildings that were renovated by the sisters 7 years ago, and sits on top of a hill, surrounded by 1,600 acres of protected open space, water and a wildlife preserve, with spectacular views. Our retreat offers something for everyone: delicious meals; workshops for mind, body, and spirit; conversations with new and old friends; time for quiet contemplation; and a boutique, silent auction, and book swap. You can attend Saturday-only for $50, Fri-Sun for $250, or Thu-Sun for $280. A $50 discount on full weekends is available for first time attendees. All registrations and payments must be received by March 1.

More information: http://womenandreligionpcd.org or email Beverly Morgan <registrar@womenandreligionpcd.org>. This year, registration will be by MAIL ONLY, so you will need to print out the registration form, complete it and mail it in with your check to the address on the form. Invite a friend!

UU Women's Rights Facebook Page

Contact the office@bfuu.org if you’d like to be added to the UU Women’s Rights Facebook page. It is a dynamic FB group of Unitarian Universalists gathered together to apply UU principles in support of women and women’s issues. They provide an opportunity for UU’s to connect with other UU’s nationwide who are actively supporting women’s rights. On the page, you can share your own or your congregation’s actions both locally and nationally in support of Women’s Rights -- especially photos of UUs in action! They encourage an open exchange of ideas and respectful dialogue. They strive to build community and covenant together. This group may also be used to post time-sensitive action alerts regarding bills/laws impacting women’s rights requiring a rapid response. Please keep your posts on target: women and women’s issues. This could cover various issues, such as equality, reproductive justice, trans and intersex health and rights, empowerment, healthcare and political activism. You may not solicit money on this page and administrators reserve the right to remove objectionable content. Looking forward to having this shared space as we continue our journey in supporting Women and Women’s Rights!

Registration will open on March 1

All Are Called

Grounded in a deep belief that we are all prophets, Unitarian Universalists ask, “How can we faithfully meet the demands of our time?” The call to witness and act for justice in our society and in the world is clear. So, too, is the call to examine our structures and practices, dismantling and transforming those which fail to recognize the full humanity of all people and to honor the interdependent web of life. Join us in Kansas City as we dive deeply into questions of mission for our Unitarian Universalist Association, for our congregations and communities, and for each of us as individuals. Together, we’ll ask:

Who and how are we called to be at this time, individually and collectively?

How are we called to act and to live?

How does our Unitarian Universalist legacy strengthen us in living out our mission? In what ways does our legacy present challenges and impediments to answering our call?

The call of our faith has a place for each of us. Join us in Kansas City to build courageous, collective leadership with tools, skills and connections.
